BABY SAFE HAVEN

Did you know that Corpus Christi is a Baby Safe Haven? A parent or agent of a parent can leave an unwanted, unharmed newborn baby at a designated Baby Safe Haven without fear of prosecution or answering any questions. They can remain anonymous. A baby can be left at the Parish Office during normal office hours. After hours, take the baby to the nearest fire station or hospital.

The Four Marks of the Church

Jen Arnold, M.A. in Theology and Catechetics — www.CatholicHeartAblaze.com

The Nicene Creed, which we recite at Mass every Sunday, contains a concise summary of what we believe as Catholics. Within that summary, we affirm our faith in the Church, which is defined as “One, Holy, Catholic, and Apostolic.” These four adjectives — one, holy, catholic, and apostolic — are known as the “Four Marks of the Church.” They describe the essential qualities of the Church as it was established by Christ and as it continues to exist today. Understanding these marks can help us Catholics appreciate the nature of the Church and our place within it.

The Church is One

The first mark of the Church is that it is One. The Catechism of the Catholic Church explains that the Church is one in several important ways. First, she is one because of the unity of her origin in God: “The Church is one because of her source: ‘the highest exemplar and source of this mystery is the unity, in the Trinity of Persons, of one God, the Father and the Son in the Holy Spirit,’” (CCC #813). God’s plan for salvation, revealed through Jesus Christ, is a plan for the unity of all people in one body, the Church. Jesus himself prayed for this unity: “That they may all be one; as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be one in us” (John 17:21).

The Church is one because it is grounded in the person of Jesus Christ, who is the same yesterday, today, and forever (cf. Hebrews 13:8). The unity of the Church is further realized in the communion of the faithful, who are bound together in love and faith. Finally, the Church’s unity is also manifested in our beliefs in one Faith and the sacraments, particularly one Baptism, and one Eucharist, which bind the faithful together as one body (cf. CCC #815).

In discussing this mark of the Church, it’s necessary to address that Christianity began unified, but is now fractured. With the Protestant Reformation, Christianity splintered into thousands of various denominations, all with differing doctrines. In some cases, these denominations continue to splinter today. The Catholic Church is the only Church that can claim the divine Jesus as its founder. All others have been founded by people who are not divine (Calvin, Luther, Zwingli, etc.). We must pray for Christianity to be reunited so that it is once again one under the one true Church founded by Jesus Christ.

The Church is Holy

The second mark of the Church is that it is Holy. This continues to reflect the Church’s divine origin along with its mission to lead all people to holiness through a life of grace, truth, and love. The Church is holy because her founder is Christ, who is the “Holy One of God,” and because the Holy Spirit dwells in her, sanctifying her and her members.

The Catechism explains that holiness in the Church does not mean that all of her members are without sin, of course, but that the Church, as a whole, is set apart by God for a holy purpose:

“The Church ... is held, as a matter of faith, to be unfailingly holy. This is because Christ, the Son of God, who with the Father and the Spirit is hailed as ‘alone holy,’ loved the Church as his Bride, giving himself up for her so as to sanctify her; he joined her to himself as his body and endowed her with the gift of the Holy Spirit for the glory of God.” The Church, then, is “the holy People of God,” and her members are called “saints.” (CCC #823)

While we, as members of the Church, are not perfectly holy yet, it is through the Church, her teachings, the sacraments, and the example of the saints, that we are led toward holiness and guided into a deeper union with the Holy Trinity.

The holiness of the Church is evident in the sacraments, especially the Eucharist, which is “the source and summit of the Christian life” (Lumen Gentium, 11). Through the sacraments, especially baptism and confirmation, the faithful are given the grace to pursue holiness and participate in the divine life. The grace we receive from our participation in the sacraments allows us to grow in our own personal holiness, which is one of the fruits produced from the holiness of the Church.

However, the holiness of the Church is not limited to its heavenly destiny, but is already present in its earthly mission. We know the Church is not made up of perfect people. Be that as it may, the members of the Church are called to live out God's holiness to the best of their ability, while always striving to do better, despite their imperfections.

The Church is Catholic

The third mark of the Church is that it is Catholic, which comes from the Greek word katholikos, meaning "universal." The Church is catholic in two senses: first, it is universal because it is meant for all people, everywhere, and second, it is catholic because it possesses the fullness of the means of salvation (cf. CCC #830). The Church is not confined to one place or culture; it exists for the salvation of all people, and Christ's message is meant to reach every nation. As the Second Vatican Council stated in Lumen Gentium, "The Church has been sent by Christ to all nations to make disciples of them" (LG 17). Additionally, having the "fullness of the means of salvation" means that the Catholic Church possesses the complete and unaltered teachings of Christ, the fullness of the sacraments, and the fullness of God's grace. To be in the Catholic Church and to have access to this fullness is to be blessed indeed!

Furthermore, the Church is catholic in her inclusiveness because she embraces all people without exception. She recognizes and upholds the dignity of each person and calls all to communion with Christ, regardless of their background, ethnicity, or history. There is an important point to bear in mind on this theme. You likely know people who would argue that the Church does not embrace all people. This is not true. What the Church does not embrace is sin, and it asks and implores all sinners, in fact, every human being, to work to root out the sin in their lives. When people cannot accept what the Church teaches about sin, it is they who are rejecting the Church, not the Church who is rejecting them. The Church will always remain faithfully universal and ready to embrace anyone who is willing to accept her loving, motherly guidance.

The Church is Apostolic

The final mark of the Church is that it is Apostolic. This means that the Church is built on the foundation of the apostles, those men whom Christ chose to be his closest followers and sent to preach the Gospel to the world and administer the sacraments. The Church continues the mission of the apostles through apostolic succession, the unbroken chain of bishops who receive their authority from the apostles themselves. Through apostolic succession, the bishops today are the direct successors of the apostles, and they hold the same teaching authority that Christ gave to his apostles. The Pope, as the successor of St. Peter, holds a unique place in this apostolic succession, and his authority is central to maintaining the unity and continuity of the Church's mission.

The Church's apostolic nature also means that she continues the work of the apostles by evangelizing and spreading the message of salvation. The Church's apostolic mission remains vital and ongoing. "The divine mission entrusted by Jesus to them 'will continue to the end of time, since the Gospel they handed on is the lasting source of all life for the Church. Therefore, ... the apostles took care to appoint successors'" (CCC #860). Due to the Church's apostolic nature, the Gospel message is transmitted throughout every age and to all peoples, ensuring that the teachings of the apostles remain alive and active in the world today.

Now that we understand the meaning of the Four Marks of the Church, and as members of this Church, we Catholics are called to contribute to her unity, holiness, universality, and apostolic mission. The Church is not a passive institution on this earth. The only way she can fulfill her active mission is through her faithful members. This week, meditate on the Four Marks of the Church and identify how you can use your unique gifts and talents to participate in the unity, holiness, universality and apostolic mission of the Church to which you belong.

The Case for Jesus

Thursday mornings
beginning Jan. 23
9:15-11:30am in the
Bl. Carlo Acutis Center

Over the years, many scholars have questioned the historical truth of the Gospels, claiming that they were originally anonymous. Others have even argued that Jesus of Nazareth did not think he was God and never claimed to be divine. In The Case for Jesus, Dr. Brant Pitre goes back to the sources — the biblical and historical evidence for Christ — to answer these and other objections. As The Case for Jesus will show, recent discoveries in New Testament scholarship, as well as neglected evidence from ancient manuscripts and the early Church Fathers, together have the potential to pull the rug out from under a century of skepticism toward the traditional Gospels. Above all, Pitre shows how the divine claims of Jesus of Nazareth can only be understood by putting them in their ancient Jewish context.

SLEEP IN HEAVENLY PEACE

Linen Drive

Representatives from Sleep in Heavenly Peace are visiting Corpus Christi this weekend, January 18 & 19 and next, January 25 & 26. Sleep in Heavenly Peace, a 501 c (3) nonprofit, is committed to ensuring that "No Kid Sleeps on the Floor in Our Town." SHP is an all-volunteer force that raises money in the community to purchase the necessary materials and build every bed by hand. Each bed comes with a brand-new mattress, pillow, blanket and twin sheet set. Each bed is built by volunteers in SHP's workshop near Sky Harbor Airport. Through a network of nine delivery hubs throughout metro Phoenix (mostly churches), the beds are delivered and assembled in the homes of those people reaching out to us for help.

Benefitting SHP, the Ladies Auxiliary of Assembly 14, Knights of Columbus, will be hosting a linen drive during the weekends of January 18 & 19 and 25 & 26. Donations of new twin sheet sets, blankets, and pillows can be brought to the church before and after each Mass. Monetary donations are also welcome. Thank you for your support of this worthy organization to ensure that "no kid sleeps on the floor in our town." For more information, please call/text Auxiliary Co-President Cathy Moore at 480-577-2612.

COMMUNION HYMN

We Come to Your Feast

by M Joncas

We place upon your table a gleaming cloth of white:
The weaving of our stories, the fabric of our lives;
The dreams of those before us, the ancient hopeful cries,
The promise of our future, our needing and our nurture Lie here before our eyes.

We come to your feast, we come to your feast:

The young and the old, the frightened, the bold,

The greatest and the least

We come to your feast, we come to your feast

With the fruit of our lands and the work of our hands,

We come to your feast

We place upon your table a humble loaf of bread:
The gift of field and hillside, the grain by which we're fed;
We come to taste the presence of him on whom we feed,
To strengthen and connect us, to challenge and correct us,
To love in word and deed.

Refrain

We place upon your table a simple cup of wine:

The fruit of human labor, The gift of sun and vine:

We come taste the presence of him we claim as Lord,

His dying and his living, his leading and his giving,

His love in cup out poured.

Refrain

We gather 'round your table, we pause within our quest,

We stand beside our neighbors,

we name the stranger "guest."

The feast is spread before us; you bid us come and dine:

In blessing, we'll uncover, in sharing, we'll discover

Your substance and your sign.
